WYOMING IS "GOD'S COUNTRY" according to those who make Wyoming their home. Whether they were born here or visited and stayed, residents revel in the uniqueness of living in this diverse state.

There is something deeply appealing about traveling down a highway under endless blue sky, past native prairie, majestic mountains and herds of buffalo and antelope.

Cheyenne and Laramie County offer a diverse mix of modern and old West culture. Rich cultural and recreational opportunities abound. Theater and the arts. Symphony orchestra. Award-winning Botanical Gardens. Rodeo and roundup. Golf courses. An outdoor paradise for skiing, hiking, biking, hunting and fishing. A local scene filled with soccer, softball, swimming, equestrian events, summer concerts at the Plaza and other community events.

Cheyenne residents also have easy access to all the opportunities available in Denver and the rest of the Rocky Mountain area. Within an hour and a half of stress-free driving, you can enjoy national league football, baseball, basketball, hockey, major entertainment venues, an international airport, all that Denver has to offer.

The Rocky Mountains offer prime skiing and other year-round outdoor entertainment. Steamboat and Keystone resorts are about 3 hours away.

Cheyenne presents a welcome alternative to the problems currently plaguing many cities across the world today. The air is clean, the water is pure, the crime rate is far below the national average. Cheyenne is a regional hub for nationally recognized health care. You can send your children to public schools and be confident they are getting an excellent education in a safe atmosphere.

Higher education is a hallmark of the area ... from the local community college and extension courses, to three major universities within an hour's drive.

Best of all, people in Cheyenne are relaxed, friendly and open. Newcomers are warmly welcomed into the community. It's a place that feels like home.
